

Three Ways To Show Gratitude | Happy Thanksgiving

The pandemic has taught us that communication is a crucial part of our lives and we should make sure that we are telling others how we feel. Whether it is a quick text letting a colleague know you are thinking about them or a personal phone call thanking a customer after a visit, communication makes an impression. We all thrive on communication and knowing someone cares enough to reach out, goes a long way to building lasting relationships.

Especially during this pandemic, communication with your customers letting them know how thankful you are for their business. This simple act of kindness just might be the bright spot in someone's day that chases away the feeling of sadness.

During this time of thanksgiving, let your customers know how much you appreciate them. We have provided a Thanksgiving social media post/email and MMS Ad for your convenience.

Three ways to show your customers how thankful you are for their business:

1. Stand out this year by sending hand-written or inscribed holiday cards, letting customers know how much you appreciate their loyalty in times when business and life are uncertain.
2. Show post-event gratitude by a personal phone call letting them know how much you appreciate their business.
3. Let customers know you will hold steady on the things that are important to them such as their safety, level of service and quality of the experience in appreciation for their loyalty. This helps to build their confidence in your center.

On behalf of QubicaAMF we express our sincerest gratitude for being our customer and giving us the opportunity to serve you and your center.

Wishing everyone a safe, healthy and Happy Thanksgiving!
